By HENRY S. BRADSHAW
NEW DELHI (AP)—The Indian government announced today the loss of one of its most important military positions on the battle lines to the Chinese Communists.

The position at Daulat Beg Oldi, at the northern end of the line in Ladakh, was evacuated a few days ago, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Ladakh is at the western end of the Himalayan border.

The outpost at Daulat Beg Oldi was the center of a series of smaller posts, all of which fell earlier.

The Chinese have now crossed what they claim to be their border with India at one or two places and have driven beyond the disputed territory.

New Delhi officials think there are no chances now of a negotiated peace with the Chinese.

Prime Minister Nehru has demanded the Chinese withdraw to positions they held before Sept. 8 and has rejected proposals of a cease-fire and peace talks until they do. The Chinese offensive in both the northeast and northwest area of Ladakh was launched Oct. 20.

Nehru was reported preparing another reply to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to that effect.

But it appears here that the Chinese have no intention of going back to their Sept. 8 positions.

Khrushchev sent Nehru his proposal for a cease-fire without conditions last Friday. A primary aim of the Soviet peace gesture appeared to be to get the conflict stopped before India falls out of its neutral alignment. A Pravda editorial warned India against "the intrigues of the imperialist camp" and also absolved Peiping of any aggressive intent.

Informants said Nehru would tell Khrushchev there could be a cease-fire and peace talks tomorrow if the Chinese pull back but that otherwise "there is no alternative left to us but to resist his attack, whatever may be the cost or the consequences to us."

Repeating a previous Peiping turnaround of this demand, Chinese Premier Chou En-lai emphasized in a broadcast statement that the Chinese consider India the aggressor and will fight on to hold their gains.

A U.S. Air Force jet lift is now delivering a steady stream of weapons to the hard-pressed Indian army, which is bracing for an expected new thrust by the Chinese towards the plains of Assam in the northeast.

U.S. planes, arriving in Calcutta at the rate of one every three hours, are delivering 100 tons of infantry arms and mortars a day. Light British weapons also are being sent to India. Canadian arms have been promised.

State Death Toll for the Week Is 8

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A traffic fatality Sunday boosted the state's violent death toll to eight, with three persons narrowly escaping death in a car-train collision at Hot Springs.

Huey Ford, 65, was killed when he was struck by a car while crossing South Arkansas Avenue inside the Russellville city limits Sunday night.

State Trooper David Jones said Mrs. Phil Leming of Russellville was driving the car. He said no charges will be filed.

Ford walked into the path of the car, Jones said.

At Hot Springs a family of three was injured when their car was struck by a Missouri Pacific passenger train at a crossing.

Police identified the injured as Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maretz, both 55, and their 3-year-old daughter, who was hospitalized at Hot Springs.

The train, bound for Hot Springs, struck the rear of the Maretz car and tossed it 20 feet into a barbed wire fence. The car was a total loss, police said.

For the week, six persons died in traffic accidents, one was shot to death, and one died of a broken neck suffered in a fall from a tree.

Charges Fly in Pre-Vote Receptions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Democratic and Republican parties held pre-election public receptions Sunday, the listlessness of which was offset by the violence of the charges that followed.

Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, lambasted Gov. Orval E. Faubus for criticism of proposed constitutional Amendment 53.

Dr. Kenneth G. Jones, Republican candidate opposing Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., went on television to charge the Fulbright campaign with "intimidation," and with selling the United States down the road to socialism.

William J. Smith, head of the committee for Amendment 54, the voting machine amendment, said more telegrams praising voting machines poured in over the weekend.

On Saturday, Willis Rocketts, Republican candidate for governor, said Rolla Fitch, director of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, should be fired because Fitch owned stock in a shopping center in which a liquor store would be built.

Faubus labeled the Republican drive this year the "biggest statewide threat in my lifetime," and Continued on Page Three

Electrical Rate in Hope Is Lowest

The citizens of Hope continue to enjoy one of the lowest electric rates in the country according to a report of the Federal Power Commission issued October 25.

This report showed that electric rates generally rose slightly during the past year while the rates in Hope, which were considerably lower already, remained the same as the year before. Figures taken from the Federal Power Commission's report are based on an average use of 250 kilowatt hours for lighting, refrigeration, small appliances, and cooking.

The national average for 250 kilowatt hours last year was $7.18, up 3c over the year before. The average rate in Arkansas was $7.96, an increase of 4c. For the same amount of service at Hope the residential user pays $6.84.

The national average is almost 10% higher, and the average bill in Arkansas is over 16% higher than the rates in Hope.

The report shows that rates charged by the municipally-owned systems in Arkansas range from a low of $6.70 in Jonesboro to a high of $8.74 in Clarksville.

While the Hope rates are among the lowest in the state, the electric system probably contributes more to general city operations than any other municipally-owned system in the state. During the past year, the electric system transferred $54,710 to general city operations and at the same time furnished free services in the amount of $40,400. The Hope Water and Light system furnishes free water and electricity to all schools, and to all uses by other departments of the city such as fire and police departments, street lighting, Chamber of Commerce, public library, all parks and ball fields swimming pools, and Youth Center. Not shown in the total of free services is a large contribution to the Churches who are billed at a reduced rate.

The operation of the water and electric systems contributed in cash and free services a total of $85,000 to the Hope community during last year in addition to saving the residential electric users over $85,000 when the rates are compared with the average for service in Arkansas.

The following is a list of the average charges for 250 kilowatt hours for the years 1961-1962 in our neighboring states and a list of typical bills for the State of Arkansas listed by companies operating in the state. Shown separately are rates for the municipally-owned electric systems in Arkansas for this same period.

Average bills by State:

State	1961	1962
Arkansas	$7.96	7.92
Kansas	6.76	6.77
Oklahoma	8.09	8.06
Texas	7.43	7.28
Louisiana	7.53	7.61

Osceola Plant to Expand

The company now has 70,200 square feet of space. Company officials did not say how many employees would be added. More than 180 persons now work at the plant. The addition would be financed by a $300,000 bond issue, which Osceola residents will vote on Dec. 4.

Washington Church Tower Is Repaired

Workmen, today, removed the scaffolding from the bell tower of the Washington Presbyterian Church. This historic landmark was struck by lightning during a thunder-storm last week.

This marked the near second, tragedy through fire for the quaint structure. Constructed in 1888, after the original 1849 building was burned, it truly has picture-card charm. The tower is topped by a six-foot copper cross, pointing heavenward and reminding the surrounding village why the bell rings each Sunday morning.

The bell, along with the pews and the pulpit sofa are among the few items saved from the original building.

One enters the church through an arch way, beautiful in its white simplicity. The interior with the cathedral-type ceiling, inside shutters against a natural pine walls, and stained glass windows of purple and lemon yellow lend a feeling of peace and reverence seldom found in more imposing sanctuaries.

The church is but one of the many buildings of interest to be found in Pioneer Washington.

Nevada Jr. PCA Makes 27 Loans

PRESCOTT, Ark.—The Nevada County Junior Production Credit Association has made 27 productive type loans to 4-H and FFA boys and girls since it was organized in November 1960.

As of October 10, 1962, 27 youngsters had received loans totaling $12,335. With this money, they purchased 114 head of cattle, 51 we're cows, two bulls, 30 heifers, one steer and 30 calves.

Any 4-H or FFA boy or girl can apply for a loan. The application is reviewed by the Junior Board and then it is subject to approval of the Senior Production Credit Association Board in Nashville.

Board members who have served for the past two years are as follows: Mark Armstrong, Laneburg, president; Gary Kirk, Cale, vice-president; Charles Purdie, Prescott, secretary; Teddy Purdie, Bodewy; and Randy Plumley of Emmet.

The first meeting of the Junior Board was held November 13, 1960, at Prescott. At this meeting, five Nevada county boys, who had been selected to represent the five school districts as members of the Junior Board, met to consider six loan applications. Benny Coleman, representative of the Nashville, Production Credit Association, explained the purpose of the Junior Association and the rules and regulations that would govern it.

Coleman explained to the Board that the purpose of the Association was to provide funds to the boys and girls to have projects which they might not otherwise be able to carry without some financial assistance.

The Board will be reorganized in the near future since one of the Board members has moved from Nevada county and another, Mark Armstrong, is now enrolled in the College of Agriculture, University of Arkansas, according to County Agent Adrian Brackman.

Collision Is Fatal

MEMPHIS (AP)—James E. Hall, 26, formerly of Itavenden, Ark., was fatally injured Saturday when a station wagon he was driving collided with a car at a rural intersection near Memphis.

Hall, who moved to Memphis from Ravenden about six months ago, died in a Memphis hospital two hours after the accident.

Sheriff's Capt. Aubrey Floyd said Jerome Toles, a 20-year-old Memphis Negro, was driving the car. He said Toles was not seriously injured.

Floyd said no charges were filed, but a report on the collision would be turned over to the helly County Grand Jury for possible action.

Faubus Denies Changing Mind on Amendment

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus denied today that he had switched positions on proposed Amendment 53.

"I endorsed Amendment 53 in the (Democratic primary) campaign last summer," Faubus said in a statement. "I have never had any other intention than to honor that pledge and vote for Amendment 53 tomorrow. I am not bound to campaign for the amendment."

Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, accused Faubus over the weekend of changing position after the governor sent a letter to voters in which he took a neutral stand on Nov. 53.

The amendment, backed by the AEA, would require that the teacher retirement system be kept in sound financial condition.

Faubus reiterated in the statement his stand for proposed Amendments 50 and 51 and against Initiative Act 1.

Act 1, another AEA measure, would allocate 50 per cent of general state revenues to public schools. Amendment 50 would liberalize taxing powers of cities and Amendment 51 would guarantee that no child loses his right to a public education for refusing to attend an integrated school.

The letter expressed the governor's stand on these three proposals, then invited recipients to make up their own minds about four other ballot proposals, including Amendment 53.

Faubus said today he feels Amendment 53 will be adopted. "I feel sure it will have, unless the efforts of Mr. Rozzell to pass Act 1 and the attacks by Mr. Rozzell and his attorney, Eugene Warren, on Amendment 51, should result in the defeat of No. 53."

Sunday, the man spearheading the drive for Amendment 54 predicted the act would pass Tuesday's election test with flying colors.

William J. Smith, Faubus' legal advisor and head of the Committee for Amendment 54, noted that the governor was the first to sign a petition to get his measure on the ballot and previously had voiced his support.

Amendment 54 would permit the use of voting machines in Arkansas. Continued on Page Two

Some States to Vote on Apportion

By LARRY SIUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Legislative reapportionment, triggered by a U. S. Supreme Court ruling this spring, moves from the courtroom to the election booth in 13 states Tuesday.

While congressional and gubernatorial races catch most of the attention, voters will be making decisions regarding the makeup of their state legislatures in these states: California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Hawaii, Mississippi, Nebraska, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Tennessee, Washington and West Virginia.

Most of the proposals would give urban or suburban areas a bigger and sometimes commanding voice in at least one of the branches of state legislatures. But voters in Nebraska, Oregon and West Virginia are being asked to solidify or increase rural strength in the statehouse.

In most cases the referendum and constitutional amendments being voted on were in the works before the Supreme Court ruled last March that legislative apportionment is a legitimate matter for federal courts to consider.

That ruling touched off some 70 lawsuits across the nation, most of them aimed at breaking rural control of the legislatures.

Some of the elections, like the key test in Florida, are a direct result of the ruling.

A three-judge federal court in Florida found that the present apportionment violated the rights of city dwellers because urban legislators represented far more voters than their country cousins.

The legislature came up with a plan which the judges approved and which Florida voters will decide on Tuesday. It increases the House from 95 to 135 and the Senate from 38 to 46 with most of the new seats going to urban areas.

Amendment 50, to remove the ceiling on the taxing power of cities; Amendment 51, to insure that children would not have to attend integrated public schools against their will; Amendment 52, to increase salaries for public officials; Amendment 53, to put the Teacher Retirement System on a sound actuarial basis, and Amendment 54, to permit the use of voting machines in Arkansas.

Initiated Act 1 would allocate 50 per cent of the state's general revenue to the public schools and referred Act 199 would create a state Motor Vehicle Commission.

Warns Voting Complaints to Be Probed

Charles M. Conway, United States Attorney for the Western District of Arkansas, today announced that the office of the United States Attorney, For Smith, Arkansas, would be open until after the polls close for the purpose of receiving complaints of possible violation of Federal election laws on Tuesday, November 6, 1962. Conway stated that, although the primary responsibility for the conducting of the General Election rests with the state and local authorities under our constitution, the Congress has passed Federal Legislation for the purpose of insuring that elections where candidates for Federal offices are on the ticket every qualified elector shall be permitted to vote without coercion or bribery or other fraud.

Any information of a possible violation against the Federal election laws may be reported by telephone to the United States Attorney's office, Fort Smith, Arkansas, telephone number Sunset 3-5125, which will be promptly investigated for proper action.

400,000 May Vote in State on Tuesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Between 380,000 and 400,000 of the state's voters are expected to turn out Tuesday to vote on candidates and issues in the general election ballot.

The races to be decided include three for national offices and one for the state's highest office. Issues include five proposed constitutional amendments, an initiated act and a referred act.

Secretary of State Nancy J. Hall predicted the voter turnout. She said she based the estimate on the increased campaign activity by both Democrats and Republicans and because of the "controversial proposals" on the ballot.

"You have more Republicans in county races," she said, "and local races bring a heavier vote."

During the last general election in 1960, 422,000 votes were cast in the gubernatorial race between Gov. Orval E. Faubus and Henry Brit, the Republican candidate from Hot Springs.

This year Faubus is seeking a fifth two-year term against Willis Ricketts of Fayetteville, the GOP candidate.

Another race expected to draw a lot of voter interest is between Sen. J. William Fulbright, the Democratic incumbent, and Dr. Kenneth Jones of Little Rock, the GOP candidate.

Other Democratic incumbents facing Republican opposition are Rep. Oren Harris, opposed by Warren Liebong of Pine Bluff, and Rep. James Trimble, opposed by Cy Carney Jr. of Fayetteville.

Amendments to be voted on include:

Amendment 50, to remove the ceiling on the taxing power of cities; Amendment 51, to insure that children would not have to attend integrated public schools against their will; Amendment 52, to increase salaries for public officials; Amendment 53, to put the Teacher Retirement System on a sound actuarial basis, and Amendment 54, to permit the use of voting machines in Arkansas.

Initiated Act 1 would allocate 50 per cent of the state's general revenue to the public schools and referred Act 199 would create a state Motor Vehicle Commission.

WHISTLE DOWN THE WIND

Death Takes Wife of Baseball Man

By JIE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John J. McGraw, 81, widow of the famed manager of the New York Giants, died Sunday night.

Death came to the wife of the legendary baseball figure at St. Vincent's Hospital, which she had entered last Tuesday.

Mrs. McGraw suffered a stroke last January but had recovered sufficiently to pay an occasional visit last summer to the Polo Grounds, where her husband had achieved his greatest fame over a 26-year career that brought the Giants 10 pennants and earned him the reputation of "the greatest manager of them all."

Mrs. McGraw never lost her love for baseball and the Giants. In the years following the death of the "Little Napoleon" in 1934, she was a steady visitor at both the Polo Grounds and Yankee Stadium, which her husband had forced the Yankees to build after kicking the American League club out as tenants in the winter of 1921-22.

She often said her saddest moment since her husband's death came when Horace Stoneham decided to take the Giants out of New York, moving them to San Francisco after the 1957 season. McGraw died Feb. 25, 1934, and was named to baseball's Hall of Fame three years later.

McGraw and the former Mary Blanche Sindall of Baltimore were married in 1903. They had met in Baltimore when he was playing with the Orioles.

Although McGraw was tough on the baseball field, his wife once described him as "gentle as a lamb at home."

Ex-Arkansan Leads Denver

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Denver Broncos, dangerously close to being the worst team in the American Football League last year, are the new Western Conference leaders today because of an alert defense and a hurry-up halfback named Donnie Stone.

With the Broncos capitalizing on three San Diego errors and Stone crashing through for three touchdowns, the Colorado upstarts, who dropped 11 of 14 games last year, overcame the defending conference champion Chargers 23-20 at San Diego Sunday. It was the Broncos' seventh in nine games, and boosted them to the top of the West over Dallas.

Sternwheeler at Fort Smith

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A modern sternwheeler, driven by an inboard motor instead of steam, was expected to ply the Arkansas River today and dock at Fort Smith.

Pilot and owner of the craft, believed the first of its kind to navigate the Arkansas in more than 40 years, is Joe Branham, 75, a semi-retired Tulsa, Okla., businessman, traveler and special event writer for the Tulsa World.

Branham and a crew of three left Dardanelle last Tuesday with the 48-foot sternwheeler to fulfill a promise—that if the Dardanelle Dam ever closed the river to navigation, he would be the first to bring a boat of any size upriver from Dardanelle to Tulsa.

The paddle-wheeler docked at Ozark Friday night to take on fuel and groceries. Branham didn't say when he expected to reach Tulsa.

When Arkansas River traffic was in its heyday, Dardanelle was an important port.

DOROTHY DIX

Dear Helen: I would never do anything to hurt my mother-in-law. Yet she is the cause of the only disagreement my husband and I ever had. He has an insurance policy upon which we pay $10 a month. He has refused to make me beneficiary.

I maintain that since my husband pays the premiums, for the sake of his unborn child I should be named beneficiary. His mother contends that since he isn't the beneficiary of my policy, I should not be his. The difference is that my folks pay the premium on mine and his mother won't for his.

We've been married seven months and are supremely happy save for this one rift.

My husband is in the Air Force. I have a friend whose husband was killed before the birth of their child. The same thing could happen to me. How should I go about remedying the situation? — Perplexed Wife

Dear Perplexed: In-law problems are best dealt with by blood relatives. Your husband, not you, is the one to talk to his mother. Tell him, in all affection, that his first duty is to his wife and unborn child.

If he is ever going to be head of his household he must face his responsibilities. And, since he pays the premiums on his insurance, it is his privilege to name the beneficiary. But even though the logic is on your side, use reason; don't nag!

Memo to Justine. This column isn't a lonely hearts get-together.

Dear Helen. My husband's mother, caring 20,000 additional doses, ried children call by his first wife, barge in, ranting, raving and con- demning me forthwith. I've never done. We would be very happy but for these dreadful visits. and have solved many problems together. Frankly, this one has got me down. Help us save our marriage! — Despondent

Dear Despondent: Any woman who takes a divorced man or a widower with children for a husband needs plenty of patience, sympathy, kindness and charity. If she hopes to make a go of the marriage.

Children, large or small, are usually a problem — even to their natural parents. Your husband may simply regard his child's denunciations as a petty annoyance. Since their back talk threatens your marriage, it's far some were vaccinated at Lincoln, a town with a population of about 500. At Prairie Grove, where the 1960 census showed the population to be 1,046, over 1,000 persons took the vaccine, which was administered in liquid form—not on the customary lump of sugar.

Four hours after the program was scheduled to end, Heerwagen said 37,242 persons were immunized.

"It's over for now," he said. "God only knows what the future will bring."

Plans are in the works for use of Type II Sabin vaccine, he said, but there is at this moment no plan for using Type III.

The county originally had a full-scale program set for Sept. 30, along with the rest of the state, but when several persons in Canada contracted polio after taking the Sabin vaccine, the program was postponed.

Heerwagen said the U.S. Public Health Service virus research center is doing analyses of various specimens from persons believed to be carriers of the disease, but he said it might be several weeks before the results were complete.

"The response was overwhelming," Heerwagen and Baker agreed. "More people came from the outlying areas than we expected."

"The suddenness of the outbreak must have been responsible," Heerwagen said. "Polio is nothing to be laughed off yet. I think this shook the people out of their complacency."

said Democrats are doing well. He predicted a good victory for Fulbright over Jones.

Jones and Henry Mooberry Jr. special assistant to Jones, charged Fulbright's campaign manager, James Pilkington, with attempt to coerce Arkansas radio stations.

Pilkington sent telegrams to stations Friday saying that in his opinion as an attorney some of the advertisements for Jones were libelous, slanderous and defamatory of Fulbright.

He said the advertisements by Jones were "intimidation," and he said Fulbright has the voting record of a liberal.

In his speech over television station KTHV in Little Rock, Jones called this "intimidation," and he said Fulbright has the voting record of a liberal.

"There is only one issue in this campaign," he said. "Whether you want your children to grow up under one-world socialism or American freedom."

He said a vote for Fulbright is a vote for socialism.

Rozzell, referring to a letter Faubus wrote to persons around the state, and more specifically to a story in the Sunday edition of the Arkansas Democrat, charged the governor with "inexcusable fraud."

In the story Faubus was asked about his endorsement of the AEA-sponsored amendment during the Democratic primaries last summer, and was quoted as saying "That was during the campaign."

"What kind of morality is inherent in this cynical statement?" Rozzell said.

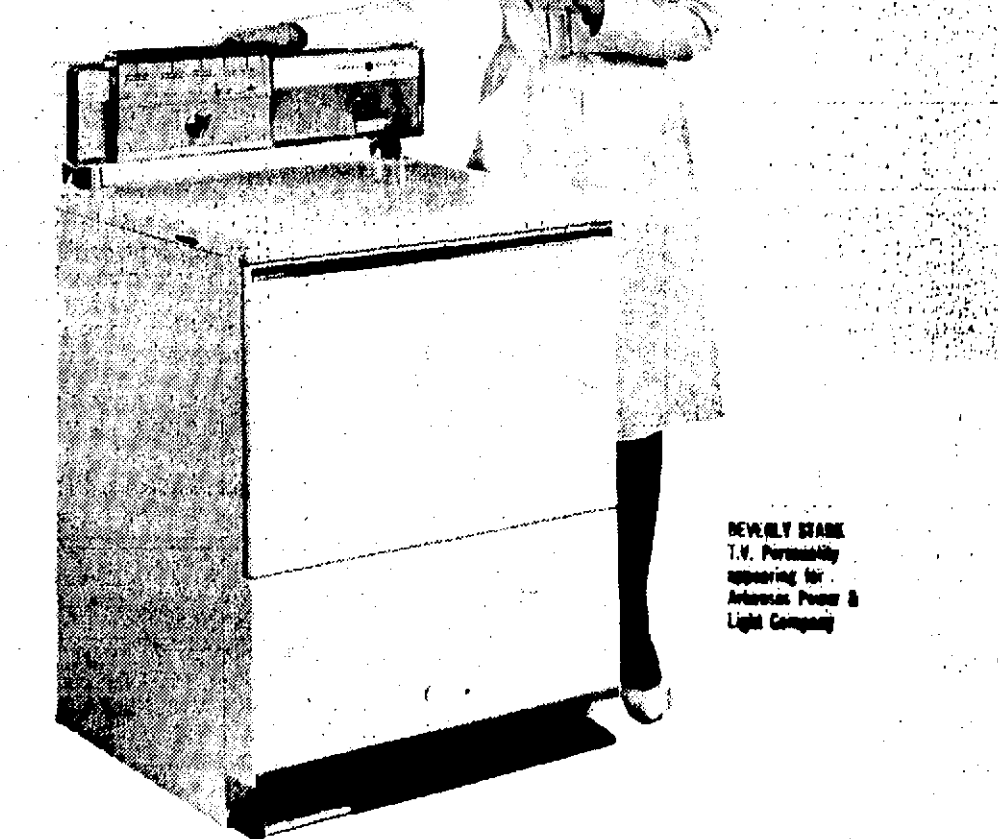

The first county seat of DeWitt County was Napoleon, founded in 1833, which was gradually washed away by the Mississippi River.

Bowl Picture Beginning to Clear Some

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer

A bowl is sometimes a household utensil which is used to contain soup or leftovers and occasionally as a hiding place for small change saved from the house money.

Sometimes, however, it is a very large stadium which is used to contain college football teams—and it's a long, long way from being a small change operation.

In respect to the second type, an unlikely series of upsets last weekend helped focus a faint glimmer of light through the muddy, soupy uncertainty surrounding which teams are likely to get bids for the New Year's classics.

There doesn't appear to be room for leftovers.

Ohio State, Purdue and Michigan State fell victim to full-blown upsets in the Big Ten, which made Northwestern (6-0) look big as the visiting team in the Rose Bowl.

Southern California (6-0) whipped Washington 14-0, probably its biggest hurdle. It gave the Trojans interest in the Cadets, who have yet to play Pitt and Navy. Dartmouth remained unbeaten with a 9-0 triumph over Yale while Penn State beat Maryland 23-7.

Northwestern got another outstanding performance from sophomore quarterback Tom Myers in a 26-20 victory over surprisingly tough Indiana. Myers completed 16 of 26 passes for 243 yards and two touchdowns. Northwestern, currently
